ABOUT THE 24th EURAM CONFERENCE

About the European Academy of Management (EURAM)

The European Academy of Management (EURAM) is a professional community of engaged management scholars and reflective practitioners - open, inclusive, international, and cross-cultural.

EURAM places a strong emphasis on multidisciplinary theoretical perspectives and methodological pluralism and promotes critical examinations of the historical and philosophical roots of management theory and praxis.

EURAM aims to enhance the quality of research, improve its relevance for responsible and effective practice, and contribute to the social and political discourse on management. EURAM is recognized as the academic association of management in Europe, becoming a reference for management scholars. EURAM currently has close to 1750 members.

EURAM Annual Conference

Every year, the EURAM annual conference takes place in a different city in Europe in June. The Doctoral Colloquium precedes each conference.

A university or scientific institution in Europe hosts the Annual Conference, which is a strategic way of achieving EURAM's objectives. Specifically, this helps in the continued evolution of an open, inclusive, international, and cross-cultural EURAM community of engaged scholars. As such, EURAM supports scholars in designing, producing, and disseminating higher quality and impactful research at each stage of their career. Moreover, it influences the development of management education and provides platforms and networks for the dialogue between scholars, reflective practitioners, and policy makers.

The EURAM Conference has been held in Winterthur (Switzerland), Lisbon (Portugal), Reykjavik (Iceland), Glasgow (Scotland), Paris (France), Warsaw (Poland), Valencia (Spain), Istanbul (Turkey), Rotterdam (The Netherlands), Tallinn (Estonia), Rome (Italy), Liverpool (UK), Ljubljana (Slovenia), Paris (France), Oslo (Norway), Munich (Germany), St Andrews (Scotland), Milan, (Italy), Stockholm (Sweden) and Barcelona (Spain). During the COVID-19 pandemic, the conference was held online on two occasions. In 2023 the conference took place in Dublin, Ireland.

24th EURAM Annual Conference (Bath)

About Bath

Bath is an elegant city full of traditional heritage, contemporary culture, green spaces, and a few surprises. From its historic origins to the colourful characters that brought the city to life, there's a lot more to Bath than meets the eye.

Bath may be famous as the Roman spa town of Aquae Sulis, but human activity around the hot springs dates back as far as 8000 BC! While the Roman Baths may be the hub of the city's spa heritage, much of Bath as we see it today is thanks to the Georgian innovators who designed iconic parts of the city's architecture such as the Royal Crescent and the Circus. Bath is also home to a vibrant contemporary cultural scene, with theatre, comedy, live music, and festivals all over the city throughout the year. Its setting amongst lush green English countryside, along with the city's many green spaces, makes Bath a wonderful place to explore the great outdoors.

As well as being a vibrant and thriving twenty-first-century city, Bath is a living museum. History and heritage line the city's streets, with every footstep revealing compelling cultural attractions and astonishing architecture. It's why Bath is the only city in the UK designated a UNESCO World Heritage Site, along with its unique second inscription at part of UNESCO's Great Spa Towns of Europe.

Ever since its legendary beginnings, Bath has been home to a cast of colourful characters; from Anglo-Saxon royalty to an eighteenth-century dandy, these extraordinary historical figures each helped shape the city into what it is today. It is well known that Jane Austen lived in Bath and used the city as a setting for some of her novels, but Bath has been home to many more impressive residents over its long history.

Conference Theme: FOSTERING INNOVATION TO ADDRESS GRAND CHALLENGES

Technological innovation has always been a significant enabler of value creation, improved competitiveness, and economic growth. It has also contributed to the taming of the impact of long-standing Grand Challenges, most notably, the ageing society, the environmentally unsustainable economic growth and the health impacts of climate change. These are important challenges as they have been blamed for causing economic inequality, social injustice and jeopardising the quality of life.

Although technological innovation has helped tackle several aspects of these long-standing challenges, the development and adoption of new and emerging technologies – such as big data, artificial intelligence, and vehicle autonomy – have created new challenges, many of which are of an ethical nature. For example, the advent of these advances poses dilemmas about the ownership and use of data; privacy concerns relating to face recognition; concerns about the devaluation of existing skills and infrastructure; and risks of spreading misinformation and threatening security.

The high opportunity cost of not addressing these long-standing and new challenges begs the question: how can innovation help solve major challenges without creating new ones? To answer this question, business organisations, their key stakeholders, governments, and the academic community can collaborate to develop new solutions and ensure that innovation is responsible and ethical. This may require moving beyond “traditional” forms of innovation to include organizational, business models, and social innovation. Thus, there are fruitful opportunities for management scholars to deliver impactful research on the managerial, organisational, and policy challenges inherent in developing the requisite innovations.

We welcome scholars to submit their research to the 2024 EURAM Conference, which focuses on fostering innovation to address long-standing and new Grand Challenges.

Who attends the EURAM Annual Conference?

The EURAM Annual conference is a meeting place for more than 1,800 academicians and practitioners, from all over the world, comprised of professors, Ph.D. students & assistants, and practitioners. As shown below in the graphic, EURAM has 1730 members in 2023.

In 2023, approximately 19% of EURAM members are from non-European countries while 820 members are from Germany, Italy, Spain, France, and the UK representing the five countries with the highest membership.

However, EURAM specifically disclaims all liability. Exhibitors assume all responsibility and liability for their property, personnel, and employees. Exhibitors should insure their exhibits and display materials.

Purpose Clause - EURAM reserves the exclusive right to determine the relevance of the organisation's product and refuse a prospective exhibitor the right to exhibit. The organisation has to offer a product or service of specific value to EURAM members.

Payment - Once you have made a booking, you will receive an invoice for the full amount. Full payment will be required within 30 days.

Cancellation Policy - All cancellations must be made in writing to EURAM. EURAM shall retain:
